

Petar Petrov

PhD, chief assistant

Petar Petrov obtained his PhD in 2015 working on environmental magnetic studies to evaluate anthropogenic pollution in big towns. His work is focused on different applications of magnetic methods for detection of pollution in various environmental settings. He participated in several national and international research projects on this topic. P. Petrov is a (co)author of a number of scientific papers published in highly recognized journals.

E-mail: PetarPetrov_76@abv.bg

Phone: +359 2 979 3379